Lully and Rameau are the twin peaks of the French baroque, masters of opera and the dance. Their instrumental suites abound with airs, allemandes, bourrées, gavottes, gigues, menuets, sarabandes and other baroque dance sensations.

Early Music New York’s annual holiday appearances at the festooned Cathedral of St. John the Divine are perennial sold-out events.

... and the COLONIES

Frederick Renz presents stirring 18th-century New England shape note anthems and hymns heartily sung by his men’s vocal ensemble, generously spiked with English country dance tunes performed by a lively band of fiddle, flute, and bass.

With a great composer for a father, best to learn everything he knows, then go one’s own way. Johann Sebastian Bach’s four composer sons distinguished themselves in an evolving musical landscape. Works by Bach progeny Wilhelm Friedemann, Carl Philipp Emanuel, Johann Christoph Friedrich and Johann Christian show just how far apples can fall from the tree.

ITALY

Saturday, May 4, 2019 at 7:30 pm

Early Music New York concludes its Grand Tour with spring in sunny Italy, where the light that pervades its visual art suffuses its music as well. Corelli and Vivaldi concertos, sinfonias and overtures will frame a program enriched by contributions from fellow countrymen including Domenico Scarlatti (his virtuosic keyboard sonatas recast as concerti Grossi by J. Charles Avison).

THE CONCERT SERIES

In centuries past, people of means would devote a year or more to THE GRAND TOUR, traveling throughout Europe to broaden their appreciation of art, culture and western civilization. Among these adventurous travelers were musicians, who enriched the culture of the lands they visited (and themselves as well).

This season, Frederick Renz guides Early Music New York in its own version of THE GRAND TOUR, including sojourns in France, England (with a side trip to the North American colonies), Germany and Italy.
